

Nicolás Zambrano

Carrera 16 #164-37 • Bogotá D.C. • nzambranoab@unbosque.edu.co • 3502038440

Education

|                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                           |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|
| El Bosque UniversityUndergraduate in Systems Engineering (Currently enrolled – 5th semester)Relevant Coursework: Programming II, Algorithmic Complexity, databases 1 | Bogotá D.C.                                               |
| Servicio Nacional de Aprendizaje (SENA)Technical Degree in Computer Equipment Maintenance and Repair                                                                     | Paz de Ariporo, Casanare(Graduated: December 8, 2023) |
| Sagrado Corazón Educational InstitutionHigh School Diploma                                                                                                               | Paz de Ariporo, Casanare(Graduated: December 8, 2023) |
| Introduction to C++ (Online Course)Completed                                                                                                                             | November 30, 2024                                         |

Experience

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                         |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| Personal Programming Project (Remote)C++ Practice ProjectDeveloped console-based applications to apply object-oriented programming and data structures <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Implemented sorting algorithms and file-handling operations</li><li>Strengthened debugging skills using Visual Studio Code and Git</li></ul> | Bogotá D.C.January 2024 – July 2024 |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|

Leadership & Activities

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| El Bosque UniversityProject Manager – Pizzatron 3000 Project <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Led the final project for the Introduction to Programming course (Java) during the first semester of the degree.</li><li>Managed a team of 6 students to recreate the Pizzatron 3000 game from Club Penguin using objectoriented programming.</li><li>Applied agile methodologies, version control with Git, and basic UI design principles throughout development.</li></ul> | Bogotá D.C.August 2024 – November 2024 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|

Skills & Interests

|                                                                                                                                                    |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Technical: Java (Intermediate - Advanced), Python (Basic), HTML/CSS (Intermediate), Git & GitHub (Intermediate), MySQL (Basic), C++ (Basic) |
| Language: Spanish (Native), English (Intermediate – B2)                                                                                     |
| Laboratory: Not applicable                                                                                                                  |
| Interests: Musician – play electric bass and guitar; game development; retro gaming; open-source projects                                   |